

University of Abertay

1. Introductory seminar 9 December 2009

- 3. 1 In what ways do you think you could benefit from being a member of AQMeN?
  - PhD seminars (residential)
  - Reassurance & Advice
  - Networking opportunities
  - Training
  - Specific advice on techniques
  - Get to know people with expertise in Quantitative techniques

- What type of live events would you be interested in attending?
e.g. Lectures, Seminars, Workshops...

  - Lectures
  - Seminars
  - Hands-on workshops
  - Online training
  - Workshops on specific techniques

- Are there any specific courses you would be interested in?
Mixed methods
  - Advanced factor analysis
  - Modelling
  - Psychometrics & test evaluation
  - R & other alternatives to SPSS
  - Regression Analysis
  - Stata
  - Cluster analysis
  - Survey design & analysis
  - Time series analysis
  - Econometric analysis
  - EViews
  - Panel data regression

- What features of the website would you use?
  - E Learning
  - Events
  - Methods
  - Profiles of others (for advice etc)
  - Ability to post questions on the forum
  - All
  - Links to resources
  - Online training

- What type of online learning would be most useful to you?
e.g. Video lectures, audio, powerpoint, demo, interactive courses...
- Demo
- Video Lectures
- Similar to statistics.com courses
- Statistics.com online courses are good.

[3.2 Notes from Discussion?

At Abertay main users of quant methods are in Sports Science, Economics/Business, Psychology, Health, Computing. SPSS main package used.]

3.2 Attendees

Fiona Gabbert	Psychology
Kat Jamieson	Psychology
Lynn Wright	Psychology
Colin Cartwright	Computing
Adele Donald	Psychology
Scott Hardie	Psychology
Nat Jack	DBS
Neil McGregor	DBS
Pamela Miller	SHS
Aminu Hassan	DBS
Hassan Suleiman	DBS
Bashir Bature Garfai	DBS
N McAra	SHS

Convened by Lynn Wright.

2. Survey Results

There were an insufficient responders to provide summary tables.